Bond Sales At Low Ebb

Less Than Half Quota Is Sold

Randall County Is Running
Far Behind of the Sale of War Bonds For Month July

Randall county citizens are running far behind in the purchase of War Bonds, stated R. H. Wright yesterday.

With a quota of $24,500 for the month of July, the sales were lagging with only $10,587 bonds disposed of up to Tuesday night.

With harvest out of the way by the end of this week, Mr. Wright hopes that sales of bonds will materially increase.

Tin Cans Will Be Called Soon

Salvage Drive in August; Smash Cans and Pile in A Convenient Place

Many Canyon citizens have asked about disposing of tin cans in the salvage campaign.

At the present time tin cans are not required, but a call will be made early in August for all tin cans. Canyon will not be able to furnish a carload of tin cans, and will pool a car with some other town. Cans should be smashed and stacked in a convenient place so that the trucks may gather the cans.

The cans need not be cleaned, or the tops cut out. But they must be smashed in order to conserve shipping space.

A county-wide salvage drive will be put on as soon as harvest is out of the way.

Free Tuition May Be Secured With Phys. Handicap

Free tuition and fees are available to students with physical handicaps, states Virgil Henson, business manager of West Texas State. This service is made available thru co-operation of the State and Federal governments.

While many students have been taking advantage of this service, it is not generally known by young people that they may receive this service during their college training.

A wide variety of physical handicaps are listed and students who have physical defects should ask about the possibilities of securing this aid, states Mr. Henson.

Recipes Coming In for New Book

Women of Randall County Are Urged to Submit Their Favorite Recipes to Book

The News announced last week that another edition of the famous Cook Book would be printed soon.

Many Randall county women have sent in their favorite recipes to be included in the new publication. Others are cordially invited to mail in their recipes at once in order that work may start on this book.

As stated last week, war-time recipes are wished for the book, which include the use of substitute and non-rationed foods. This section of the book should be of great interest to the women of the county.

Men Processed to Meet Call Under Selective Service

Every man available for immediate military duty has been called up for local physical examinations. Practically all of them will go to Lubbock on August 19 for their army examinations when the call is for 29 men. This number will not be reached, however, due to the dwindling number of men available.

The local board ran into many appeals when the group of older men were called for military service. Seven appeals were taken during the past month. The appeals board upheld the classification of the local board in six of these cases, and has not acted upon the last appeal. The Randall County Board has an exceptionally high record in being upheld by the appeals board.

For the second time since Selective Service started, a man tried to carry an appeal to the President. However, in both instances state officials refused to grant the right to appeal to the President, and upheld the local board in the classification.

John Steinbeck Tells of Last Days With Maurice Crain in London

Famous Author Was Close Friend of Canyon Boy, Reported As Missing

John Steinbeck, famous author, who has been with American troops in England for several months, sent the following dispatch giving the last details known regarding the fate of Maurice Crain, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Crain of Canyon. Steinbeck and Crain have been close friends for a number of years. The dispatch follows:

LONDON.—Sergeant Henry M. Crain of Canyon, Texas, came back to London with me from his base in England. In the morning he had bombed Wilhelmshaven. At noon he was back and at four o'clock he had a two-day pass and we went up to London together.

He was 41 and not many months ago he was a newspaper man and author. Now he was in the ball turret of a Flying Fortress, overage for the job but every faculty tested to the necessary standard which is usually attained at 25 and lost not many years afterward. Again and again he had been offered ground jobs and instructing jobs. It had needed dogged planning to get into a Fortress at his age and he refused to leave it. There was no one else in his crew over 24. They called Henry Crain "Pop" and he must have seemed ancient to them. He held their money for them and talked to them of their futures and their girls. His crew mates called him "Pop" and wondered how one so old could have got in.

In the evening in London we

Winter Term of West Texas

Dr. S. H. Condon states that jobs are needed for prospective students in West Texas State this fall.

Mr. Condon advises that all business firms make a survey of their needs and file these needs with the college as soon as possible in order that students may be told about the possibilities of jobs before they come to college.

There will be no NYA jobs this year as Congress stopped this work.

Half of Car Owners Apply New Coupons

Anticipated Rush on Local Gasoline Panel Failed to Develop During the Week

Only 1100 "A" gasoline books had been registered yesterday in Randall county. There are 2200 automobiles registered in the county.

There was not the big rush this week as expected with the expiration of old "A" coupons yesterday. However, those with B and C cards may still have coupons available for future purchases of gasoline.

The new coupons may be used today. According to information from Washington the value of these coupons may be lowered in the near future in the West and Southwest in order to provide more gasoline for car owners in the east.

The local gasoline panel has had valuable volunteer assistance during the past 10 days in issuing the new gasoline coupons. A dozen different persons have assisted with the work and their services have been greatly appreciated, according to Mrs. R. E. Ball, clerk of the gasoline panel.

No Bidders For Work on County Roads Received

No bidders appeared Monday before the Commissioners Court on county road work. Bids were asked on topping of the road from Umbarger to Buffalo Lake, and from Amarillo two miles south.

Judge A. H. Hunt states that asphalt may be secured for topping of the caliche base which has been run for these roads. It has not been determined whether the county will again ask for bids on this topping.

More Rain Hurts Wheat in County

Many Farmers Will Plow
Under Light Wheat and Get Ready for New Crop

Harvest was slowed up again Saturday night when .40 of an inch of rain fell in Canyon. The north part of the county received a much heavier rain, but very little moisture fell in the south part of the county.

Harvest is just about over in most parts of the county, and should be nearly completed by the end of this week. However, with so much rain during harvest, many fields of wheat have been taken by the weeds. Where the yield would have been very light, many farmers prefer to plow the wheat and weeds under and then thin out the wheat this fall by plowing again. This method of seeding has been successfully used when the crop was too light for profitable harvest.

It is estimated that the quality of wheat has been lowered at least 30% because of rains during harvest. However, about a third of the crop was harvested before the rains started, and all of this wheat was in excellent condition.

The labor situation has worked out much better than anticipated. There has not been the acute shortage as was predicted before harvest started.

Getting land ready for another wheat crop is the urgent need of the week, and farmers who have finished harvest are taking advantage of the splendid moisture to prepare their ground.

Row crops are making a wonderful growth, and with a favorable fall there will be a heavy yield of grain.

Information For Students Will Be Sent by Registrar

Several Canyon citizens have recently asked about securing catalogs and other advertising material to be sent to prospective students this fall.

Registrar D. A. Shirley requests that all citizens who know of students who may be interested in work here should telephone his office. Information will be forwarded by his office to these students.

Mr. Shirley suggests that many students may be induced to come to college when citizens of Canyon and other friends of West Texas State write to them regarding the work being done here.

Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, is being urged to run for President on the Republican ticket. He is a rank isolationist. He was one of the big papas of the America First group, which hampered the preparation program before we got into the war. Wendell Willkie steps in to challenge McCormick in the Illinois primary. A hopeful situation is being developed. World War II is being fought because America muffed its opportunity of stopping future wars at the close of World War I. It is well that political parties smoke out the leaders before this war closes in order that the people may know how our leaders stand. If McCormick and his gang should win the presidential nomination, then there will be no other choice than to re-elect Roosevelt for a fourth term. If Willkie is nominated by the Republicans, we shall have little choice as between Roosevelt and Willkie so far as international questions are concerned. The great difference will be in domestic problems, and on this score Willkie should have the edge over the President—unless the war is still on. It would be disastrous if the people went to sleep and let another war be fought in vain. Bringing the issue of isolation clearly to the front a year before election and while the war is raging, should impress upon the people the necessity of doing something. Naturally the isolationists are trying to sooth the people by saying that we should win the war before talking about peace.

We had a most interesting conversation with the wife of a teacher who spent many years in Japan. This woman states that Americans who lived in Japan for years before Pearl Harbor were aware of the coming war. They tried to tell America what was going on, but the Japs kept the wool pulled over the official eyes of America. A prominent missionary returned to America from Japan only a year before Pearl Harbor and tried to tell his denomination what was going on, but his words were met with a smile. In spite of protests from Americans who knew what was going on, we continued shipping scrap iron and war materials to Japan, while those on the islands well knowing that some day these would be used to kill our fighting men. It must have been a tragic life which those Americans lived to realize that their government was playing up to the Jap war lords and that they were helpless to stop it.

The Canyon News predicted two weeks ago that Vice President Wallace would come out second best in his battle with Jesse Jones. About that time word came out of Washington that the President approved of the biting words with which Wallace attacked Jones. However, the President has now taken a definite stand, spanking both Wallace and Jones, but the former to a greater degree than the latter. This means that Wallace is politically dead, and when the President runs for a fourth term he will have a new running mate. Maybe that is just what the master politician wished.

Graduate Club Is Among The Most Active at W. T.

Perhaps the most active club on the W. T. campus during the present summer term is the Graduate Club. The club was re-organized early in the term and carried out a successful series of social and professional meetings. Reports in the field of graduate study were presented before the club by various members. Usually material food accompanied the mental food offered at club meetings.

The Graduate Club raises a scholarship each year amounting to fifty dollars to be granted to a worthy graduate student doing residence work at West Texas State.

The latest project to be undertaken by the club is the abstracting of Master's theses written by W. T. graduate students. These abstracts are to be included in a Graduate Bulletin to be published soon by the Graduate Division under the direction of Dean A. M. Meyer. This project is to be carried out co-operatively with former graduate students who received their master's degree from our college. The special committee working on this project consists of Margaret A. Elliott, Carrie Bell Lee, Sara Duke.

Officers of the Graduate Club for the summer term 1943 are: O. B. Ginn, president; Delilia Baird, vice-president; Lilla Thornburn, secretary-treasurer; Sara Duke, historian; Ena Scott, reporter; Dean A. M. Meyer, sponsor.

The railroads are certainly doing a fine job in handling the war-time rush of business. Remember the good (?) old days when you got on a Pullman and chances were you shared it with only two or three other passengers? Now every berth is taken, and sometimes they are even in the aisles. Had not the railroads kept their rolling stock and trackage in good condition throughout the depression they could not handle the big rush of business now. Wise officials foresaw a return of business. While the simple minds were predicting the end of railroads with the expansion of the truck and bus lines and the railroads saw great hunks of the business diverted, what would be the national condition today without the railroads? Likewise, the trucks and busses came to the aid of the hard pressed railroads during this stress, and the two are handling the heavy traffic jam. However, as one who has ventured away from home only once, let this remind one and all that the safest and most comfortable place these days is the confines of your own home.

A returned sailor asked the other day, "Where is everyone?" Naturally he was asking about those of his own age, and those with home he had associated. In spite of the fact that he was in the armed service, it seemed that he did not realize that practically all young men in Randall county were now in some branch of the armed service. Those of us who stay at home are not struck so forcefully with the situation. But visit a city and see only extreme youth and old age in service jobs, and we realize more forcefully how the armed services have depleted the ranks of young men. Women are being employed on jobs which have been exclusively for men in the past; young boys and girls are working where young men have been employed; older men and women are in great demand. There are thousands of jobs being manned by people without previous training, all of which leads to less efficient public service.

Lou R. Maxon blasted OPA as he handed in his resignation. Maxon has been a forceful advertising executive who liked to look back over his day's work with a feeling that something worthwhile had been accomplished. He could not endure the slow and unreliable pace of Washington, with its army of young lawyers who dish out rules and regulations that no one can read with understanding. He made it clear that OPA was doing some good in spite of having missed the goal because of silly and unworkable regulations. All of us will agree that OPA should be thoroughly cleaned up, and that sensible men, rather than career boys, should be placed at the head of this organization. OPA will continue to function, because it is a well established war necessity. But anyone who has read any of the rambling orders realizes that it should be transformed into a sensible and workable organization.

A move is on in Congress to abolish the two-thirds law in the vote to override a President's veto. The constitution requires that two-thirds of those present must vote affirmatively before Congress may override the veto. Well seasoned members of Congress believe that a simple majority should be necessary. As it now stands 34% of the members of both houses control legislation in such cases. Since Democracy is founded on the rule of the majority, why should 34% block the will of Congress on measures which may not personally suit the President? It will take a constitutional amendment to make this change, which will be passed by the legislatures of the various states before becoming effective—if ever.

Visiting wholesale displays leads one to the definite conclusion that he who puts off his Christmas shopping until the last minute in 1943 will find himself without gifts. Merchants will try to impress upon the public the real necessity for early shopping in order to secure any kind of gifts. This is no joke. Several women have started the past week and they have practically all of their Christmas gifts bought, wrapped and addressed. Wise buyers! While this hot weather is not very inducive to Christmas shopping, facts are that the wise buyer will start in July or August to do his Christmas shopping, if he wishes to secure any gifts.

V-NEWS

From Randall County Home Economists.

You will want to make some jelly in spite of sugar rationing. Make sure you do not waste any precious sugar or juices by failures.

Three ingredients are necessary for making good jelly: pectin, acid and sugar. Pectin is a gum-like carbohydrate substance found in some fruits. The greatest quantity of pectin is found in fruits that are just underripe. Fruits containing the most pectin and acid are apples, crab apples, cranberries, currants, plums, and underripe grapes. Some fruits contain pectin but lack acid. Lemon juice is commonly used to supply the acid.

Juices for jelly making is always extracted by heating. Pectin in sufficiently large quantities cannot be obtained when the juice is pressed out without the action of heat. Water is not added to juicy fruits. Test for pectin before trying to make jelly. The test is made with a small quantity of denatured alcohol. Pour equal quantities (about one tablespoon) of alcohol and juice together slowly into a small glass without mixing or stirring the liquid, and if pectin is present you will see a clear, jelly-like mass. The mass will not form if the mixture is stirred. A good test is obtained if approximately half to three-fourths of the juice forms the clear jelly. The amount of sugar used for each cup of juice depends on the amount of pectin present. If the pectin test is good, three-fourths of a cup of sugar is used to each cup of juice. If it is not good, boil the juice down for five to ten minutes and test again. Commercially prepared pectin extracts may be used when juices do not contain the required amount of pectin.

Jelly is made quickly. Use a large enough container to permit the use of a high flame so that the mixture can boil vigorously and not boil over. It is best to make small quantities of jelly at a time. Bring juice to a boil, add sugar and bring to a rolling boil, that can not be stirred down, as quickly as possible. Continue this rapid boiling until the jelly-like mass appears. When the mixture is done, it will form either in two large drops on the side of the spoon, or in one irregular mass, and it will break off at the edge of the spoon. If a thermometer is available, use it. Jelly is done when cooked to 222 or 224 degrees F. Jelly usually requires about ten minutes cooking after the rolling boil has been reached.

"Manpower at home is essential to support fighting-power overseas" ... E. G. Grace, president, Bethlehem Steel

Manpower on the Home Front

Thousands of men arriving for work in a Bethlehem shipyard. Down this yard's busy shipways slide many of the nation's cruisers, destroyers and aircraft carriers. Bethlehem repeatedly has made records for delivering vessels well ahead of schedule.

This is the story of manpower in Bethlehem steel mills and shipyards, of men and women who have come by the thousands from all walks of life to do a job in backing up our fighting forces with a continuous flood of materials. These men and women are vital to the battle of production. Manpower at Bethlehem Steel has been multiplied three times in three and a half years. Here are the figures:

NUMBER OF BETHLEHEM EMPLOYEES

Poland invaded, September 1939 100,000
Fall of France, summer 1940 120,000
Pearl Harbor, December 1941 190,000
Tunisia, May 1943 290,000

Facts About Bethlehem Workers

Manpower is the heart of Bethlehem's current production of a ship a day. Manpower makes possible the meeting of its large commitments for ordnance and other war-steel products. All other problems such as materials and supplies are secondary—the essential dependence is on manpower.

Thousands of men from non-essential trades are joining Bethlehem war-work armies. More than 13,000 women are employed at Bethlehem plants and shipyards, and the number is constantly increasing.

Veteran employees are zealously teaching the newcomers, so that they can quickly handle their appointed tasks.

New employees earn while they learn, in special training classes and in on-the-job training. Sympathetic study of each person's abilities puts "square pegs in square holes."

Wages are the highest in the history of shipbuilding and steel, and in the top group of all industries.

Promotion is rapid, as opportunity to advance comes far more swiftly than under normal conditions. Bethlehem employees are friendly, high-grade people. The great majority have education in the high school grades, and thousands are graduates of colleges, crafts and professions.

More than 50,000 Bethlehem employees are now serving in the armed forces, a fact which gives added seriousness of purpose to those working to produce the supplies.

To work in Bethlehem shipyards and plants is to be in the front line of industry, doing a real job to help win the war.

SOME NEW BETHLEHEM EMPLOYEES FROM VARIOUS OCCUPATIONS

From leatherworker, From driller on machine operator, From jeweler to burner, From auto salesman, to materials inspector, From plumber, to meter repairman, From office clerk, to ship draftsman, From delivery man, to furnace loader.

Employment in Bethlehem's shipbuilding and ship repair yards alone has grown from 15,000 in 1939, to nearly 180,000. The enlistment in our manpower army continues from week to week and from month to month. The total of Bethlehem employees will exceed 300,000 by the end of the year. To reach this total force, and provide for replacements of those going into the armed services and others, many thousands more men and women will be hired.

FROM ALL OCCUPATIONS

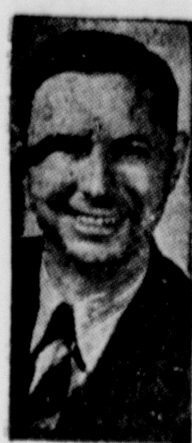

Bethlehem workers come from virtually every walk of life to serve in these war-work armies. Here are 60 instances of former occupations of men and women who are now producing ships and combat materials.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

There was a traveling pianotuner who used to stop at the small hotel in the West Texas town where I ate. He was a good checker player and was very serious about it. One night, I declared I could give him the full 12 checkers and I would take only four, not "kings" either, and wouldn't let him reach the king row.

He accepted the challenge and a group gathered around. He placed his men in regular position for the start of a game and I put my four in a line just one move from the front line of his men. It had been agreed that the first move would be mine, so I moved a checker forward and he jumped it. Then I moved another, which he jumped, while looking closely for a "trap." When I moved the third one to be jumped, everybody in the room (except my opponent) saw what I was doing.

Then I shoved the fourth and final man forward to be jumped and all the onlookers roared. I hadn't said I would beat him but only that I would not let him reach the king row. For a moment he glared across the board. Then the humor of the situation struck him and, as he jumped the last checker, he chuckled, "That's one on me, all right."

My very first chum was the mascot of the town band. One day, he went to the bayou and an older boy, who was a good swimmer, invited Stewart to climb on his shoulder. A treacherous undertow drowned them both. At the funeral of the little fellow, the band played softly "Nearer, My God, to Thee." You can understand why, all thru the years, that song has been associated with the tragic remembrance of my friend.

One of the richest men in our town would pay a bill only when he had to. Maybe that's the reason he was rich—he kept his money so long. It is related that he put in a hilarious week end and was sleeping late on Monday mornning. Someone knocked at the door. Gotrox yelled, "Sue and be d—," then rolled over and went back to sleep.

BUY MORE WAR BONDS!

Letter to a P.O.W.

WILL YOU WRITE A LETTER to a Prisoner of War . . . tonight?

Maybe he's one of Jimmie Doolittle's boys. Perhaps he was left behind when Bataan fell. Anyway, he's an American, and he hasn't had a letter in a long, long time.

And when you sit down to write, tell him why you didn't buy your share of War Bonds last pay day.

"Dear Joe," you might say, "the old topcoat was getting kind of threadbare, so I . . ."

No, cross it out. Joe might not understand about the topcoat, especially if he's shivering in a damp Japanese cell.

Let's try again. "Dear Joe, I've been working pretty hard and haven't had a vacation in over a year, so . . ."

Hell, better cross that out, too. They don't ever get vacations where Joe's staying.

Well, what are you waiting for? Go ahead, write the letter to Joe. Try to write it, anyhow.

But mister, if somehow you find you can't finish that letter, will you, at least, do this for Joe? Will you up the amount of money you're putting into War Bonds and keep buying your share from here on in?

Boys Abroad May Receive Gifts For Christmas

Christmas packages may be mailed to American soldiers serving overseas without presentation of a request from the soldier, during the period from September 15 to October 15, which has been designated as Christmas mail for soldiers overseas, the War Department announced.

These Christmas gift packages will be accepted for mailing only within the present limitations of weight and size—five pounds in weight, fifteen inches in length, and thirty-six inches in length and girth combined.

Christmas packages mailed during this period should bear the endorsement "Christmas Gift Parcel." Only one such package will be accepted for mailing by or on behalf of the same person or concern to or from the same addressee during any one week.

Under the relaxation of the overseas mail restrictions during this period, it will not be necessary for the mailer to present either a request or any envelope bearing an APO cancellation at the time of mailing. Perishable articles will not be accepted for mailing, and every effort will be made to discourage the mailing of fragile articles.

The Army Postal Service of the Army Service Forces reports that only through the whole-hearted co-operation of the mailing public in complying with the above mailing rules and dates will it be possible to deliver on time the tremendous volume of Christmas mail to American soldiers overseas which is expected this year.

"Yes, Mother."

"Where did you sit?"

"Oh, in the same place we always sit."

"Willie, something tells me that you didn't go to church at all. What was the text of the sermon?"

"The text was—let me see—something about 'Keep your shirt on and you will get a blanket.'"

"Willie! There's nothing like that in the Bible. I'm going to call the minister and ask him."

She called the minister, who informed her that the text was, "Be patient and the Comforter will come."

Violin Program Given Tuesday by Jean Tarlton

Canyon Lions enjoyed a program of violin music rendered by Miss Jean Tarlton at the luncheon Tuesday noon. Miss Tarlton played several excellent selections. She was accompanied by Miss Mary Dell Johnson at the piano.

E. E. Hawkins, District Supervisor for the National Education Insurance Company of Fort Worth, became a new member of the club.

Lion Knott led the club in singing the last two stanzas of America and the third stanza of Star Spangled Banner. He stated that he thought it time for the Lions to become better acquainted with our national songs.

A man subject to epileptic seizures was picked up unconscious on a street in New York and rushed to a hospital, and when they took off his coat one of the nurses found a piece of paper pinned to the lining, upon which was written: "To inform the house surgeon that this is just a case of plain fit—not appendicitis. My appendix has already been removed twice."

A casualty insurance company that had required some additional evidence to support a claim recently received a letter from the widow of the insured, which ended: "I have so much trouble getting my money that I sometimes almost wish my husband had not died."

John Steinbeck Writes of Last Days With Crain

from one kind of life to another. He thought the British were ahead of us in some ways. And he thought we should learn what they have learned: "They tell their soldiers what the war is about," he said. "They tell a man what his army job is designed to accomplish and the soldier knows he is fighting for something at home that is come. Not vague, general words, but a tangible way of life in terms of food and comfort and security and rest. We should do that," Sergeant Crain said.

Visit Fleet Street

The next day we walked in London to the places we knew from books—Fleet Street where newspapers were born and the house where Dr. Johnson fulminated and the apartment where Macaulay wrote his history. We went to the temple where law was made and to the round church the Norman Knights built nearly a thousand years ago and left to go to the Crusades. Crain loved the city with its continuing ghosts. You talk of old things intimately where they happened—as though they were still happening.

The temple was blasted and fire blackened. The city was destroyed as all cities are again and again. But he could see the rising new city here, just as he could at home. He was as certain that the better thing would come as he was that the old thing had been. And above all he was clear. He knew what he was and what he wanted and he knew how to go about it. There was nothing confused in him.

Sunday night he went back to his station, to his ball turret, to his two fifty-caliber machine guns, his implements into the future. Sergeant Crain and his crew were lost over enemy territory. The report says — "Some parachutes were seen to open."

Lt. R. B. Cousins III Is Now Instructor At Ellington Field

ELLINGTON FIELD, Texas, July 20.—The name of Lt. R. B. Cousins III means skilled flying instruction to his cadets here, but to scores of academic instructors on the field it recalls the work of the late Dr. R. B. Cousins, one time president of West Texas State College and Texas A. & I. and former State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Young Cousins, grandson of Dr. Cousins, is a flying instructor. He is a law graduate of the University of Texas. He finished a flight course here in April. His father, R. B. Cousins II, is an Austin insurance man.

The flying lieutenant hopes to combine law and flying after the war is won. He has been flying for several years.

"The automobile brought a great increase in legal activity," he said, "and the international aspects of aviation suggest a broad field for the law as well as business."

He recalls with pleasure a visit he made to Canyon with his grandmother, wife of the late Dr. Cousins, a few years ago, when they were guests of Dr. J. A. Hill.

Lt. Cousins is a nephew of Major Gen. Ralph Cousins, commander of the West Coast Training Center in California.

After going over the patient carefully, the doctor inquired of him as follows:

"Do you drink?" Reply was, "No, Doctor."

"Do you run around nights?" Reply was, "No, Doctor."

"Do you swear excitedly?" Reply was, "No, Doctor."

Thereupon the doctor inquired if he felt pain on each side of the head.

"Yes, Doctor, I do," was the patient's reply.

"Well, my man, your only trouble is your halo is too tight," concluded the Doctor.

The flying rumors gathered as they rolled.

Scarce any tale was sooner heard than told;

And all who told it added something new,

And all who heard it made enlargements too—Alexander Pope.

In Cleveland they tell the story of a golfing clergyman who had been badly beaten on the links by a parishioner 30 years his senior, and had returned to the club house rather disgruntled.

"Cheer up," his opponent said, "remember, you win at the finish. You'll probably be burying me some day."

"Even then," said the preacher, "it will be your hole."

Mrs. Jones barged into the grocery store and indignantly asked: "Remember that cheese you sold me yesterday?"

"Yes," replied the grocer. "Well, did you say it was imported or deported from Switzerland?"

Katherine: Would you put yourself out for me?

Jack: I certainly would!

Katherine: Well, then, please do. It's after 12 and I'm awfully tired.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

WE FLY THROUGH THE AIR—

FOR 200 YEARS MEN EXPERIMENTED WITH BALLOONS, WHICH WENT ONLY WHERE THE WIND BLEW THEM. NOT UNTIL 1903, WHEN ORVILLE AND WILBUR WRIGHT PERFECTED THEIR AIRPLANE DID MEN FLY WHERE THEY WANTED TO GO—AND MODERN AVIATION WAS BORN.

NOW, ONLY 40 YEARS LATER, IT ENCOMPASSES THE WORLD... AMERICAN FIGHTING MEN—INVENTORS—MECHANICS—ARE TUNED TO THE AIR... NEW GOALS OF ACHIEVEMENT ARE SET AND PASSED WITH EVER ACCELERATING SPEED... AMERICAN TRANSPORT PLANES CARRY MILLIONS OF POUNDS OF CARGO OVER HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF MILES OF LAND AND SEA... AMERICAN BOMBERS AND FIGHTERS STRIKE WITH TERRIFIC FORCE ON EVERY FRONT. AMERICAN INGENUITY IS KEYED TO THE JOB—ITS IMMEDIATE OBJECT A MIGHTY DRIVE—IN AN AIR-LINE TO VICTORY.

A UNITED NATION

The United States is the leading member of the United Nations, and the strongest nation in the world today. Yet our own people don't, or won't, realize that we have not organized completely for an all-out war. We hear comments on all sides about the way our troops are doing their job. The manner in which they helped clear the enemy from North Africa, from the Solomons, from Attu, and other places where our men have been in action.

But what about civilians? They have a big stake in this war, too, whether all of them realize it or not. Yet they still persist in complaining about the ration system, and the rubber situation, and the fact that they have to give up some of their pleasure driving, because the gasoline is more urgently needed on the fighting front.

It is high time that those people, who believe that we are fighting a war for a select few, to realize that this war is being fought for free people to remain free, and to free those who have been subjugated by the dictators.

It is true that the workers have been and still are being underpaid, but there is a better way of settling the trouble than by striking. What would you think if the soldiers, sailors, and other fighting men went on strike for higher pay? But they won't because they have sense enough to realize that they are all that stands between the dictators and the free countries. Why, then, can't a few people, those who are instigating the strikes, realize that they too have a job to do in this struggle. The job of producing supplies is as important as the job of the fighting men, and it is time the men in control realize this fact, because we won't need those supplies next week, or next year. If we don't get them now, we won't be able to use them.

Certain agencies are set up for the settling of differences between the workers and their employers. Because one man has a personal grudge against the arbitrators, are you going to allow that one man to tie up the entire war effort?

You know the answer, and it is in your hands, nor can any one but you be to blame if the flow of supplies to the battlefronts is stopped. The blood of men, who died because of lack of supplies, will be on the hands of those who are responsible for getting those supplies to them.

DO YOU WANT THAT RESPONSIBILITY?

Flying Buffaloes

Flight Two By Red

Flight two has just finished their first month here at the College Training Detachment and despite a slow start we have finally gathered enough momentum to keep us rolling forward in a steadfast manner until our course is completed. At first it was hard for a lot of us to become used to the idea of settling down and studying again. Our minds had become somewhat rusty after the long layoff from the discipline of study, although after a few weeks of concentration and getting the feel of things, we are really going to town.

Today Flight Two won their first inspection. After the inspecting officers had had a field day at our expense, the boys decided that something should be done, so a lot of polishing and praying went into effect, consequently, results were very good.

Flight Two has some athletes that are second to none on the campus. To begin with we have A-S Chester Ohnmus who used to catch for a classy semi-pro ball team in Boston. Running on down the line we come to A-S Daniels, who hails from Lima, Ohio, and is reputed to be a friend of Don Faurot, U. of Missouri coach. This Mr. Daniels is no small shakes as a swimmer and it's really a treat to see him churn the H2O.

Turning to the strenuous sport of track, we have two young men who we think can hold their own when it comes to running, with anybody in the detachment. These two lads are A-S Kolb, and Student Major Smith. Kolb is a quiet spoken chap whose home is in Illinois, and when this blond speed demon opens up there is small hope of overtaking him despite the best efforts of the rest of the field. Although Smith does not possess the driving finish, he makes up for it by his smooth, flawless stride. Any coach would be more than glad to have these two up and coming boys on his track squad.

Not all the boys are athletes, though, as A-S Pete Garavaglia was a postal clerk in Detroit, Michigan, and A-S John Rooney of Yakima, Washington, worked as a warehouseman in one of the largest lumber yards in the world.

In the line of entertainment you haven't seen anything until you have seen A-S Ralph Mays, of Chicago, give his neat display of clogging and tapping. He gave a demonstration the other night, and before the show ended, he had quite an audience of admiring spectators.

When it comes to singers, the boys say you haven't lived until you have heard "Irish" Joe Dailey, an inhabitant of the "Show Me" state, warble, "When Irish Eyes are Smiling." This congenial, blue-eyed boy has gained detachment fame with his marvelous tenor besides establishing himself as a homespun philosopher of the first degree.

A-S "Boston Blackie" McCarthy, popular young giant from the East, who resembles Cary Grant, showed up the other day with a box of delicious barnyard fowl. It wasn't long until the grapevine had surrounded him with a multitude of friends. Mister McCarthy was reluctant to share his prize, but, due to the incessant pleading of the horde, he finally succumbed and a good feast was enjoyed by all. If this McCarthy continues to be as generous he might be swamped with well wishers.

Incidentally, while on the subject of dining, this correspondent happened to overhear quite a number of favorable comments in regard to the chicken we had at the cafeteria on the 14th. It was delicious and it was obvious that great pains had been taken to prepare the meal. It was truly a great exhibition of the culinary art.

While in this complimentary frame of mind, it would no doubt be a good opportunity to express the flight's gratitude in regard to the assistance that has been shown by our various instructors. They have shown us a spirit of willingness and cooperation unexcelled in the realm of instruction and we want them to know that we greatly appreciate their efforts and hope that we can maintain a standard that would conform with their wishes.

Our mascot, "Queenie" has disappeared, and, although we have our suspicions, we have decided to adopt another instead of seeking the original. This time it's "Grumbling Gremlin" Judnik who is steadily gaining possession of the throne "Queenie" once held.

If any of the flights care to play basketball, they might send a representative over to see A-S Kolb of Flight Two.

A-S "Big John" Diener, has added something new—Poise is the word; the contributing factor for this newly won and valuable asset is summed up in one word—History. For further details see Mr. Diener. Well, it seems as though I have been rambling on long enough for this week, so will close with—Nitro Glycerine to all, (that's good-bye in any language.)

New Aviation Studes Arrive at West Texas State College

Another group of Aviation Students arrived at the 350th College Training Detachment last Friday and moved into Terrill Courts, which will be their home for the next few months.

To most of these boys, Texas is home. In fact, over half of them are from Texas. Although most of them are far from home, they are still in their own state and are quite happy about it.

Many of the new men have seen overseas service, and the fact that they are back in the good old United States is pretty hard to believe. Their comments on arriving here were many and varied. But all of them were glad to get settled as they have been moving from one place to another for the past two months.

All of the boys are anxious to get started in school and hope that it will be soon. As soon as all arrangements are completed, they will start classes and begin their studies.

"They'll be so nice to come home to"—those War Bonds you're accumulating now.

Deadline Looms On Insurance Minus Physical

Midnight August 10 is the deadline. Before that date, soldiers now stationed at the 350th College Training Detachment have an unusual opportunity—a chance they could get nowhere in a far less hazardous civilian life—that of buying life insurance without a physical examination.

The right to obtain this low-cost, high-value National Service Life Insurance can be exercised now by new applicants, by old-timers who wish to increase smaller policies to the $10,000 maximum, or by any soldier formerly rejected from buying insurance on any grounds.

From August 10 on, all applicants for National Service Life Insurance who have been in the service for more than 120 days must pass a rigid physical examination to obtain even a one thousand dollar National Service Life Insurance or to raise their present policies.

The fact that more than 90 per cent of the military personnel within the Eighth Service Command carry National Service Life Insurance proves its desirability and value.

See your Life Insurance Officer for details, today.

Flight One

The members of Squadron "T" are settled in their new homes in Buffalo Courts. Although the moving job was a hurried affair the fellows cooperated one hundred per cent. There are many opinions as to which place is the better to live in, Terrill Courts, or Buffalo Courts, but the men seem equally divided.

Our new men arrived last week—a fine looking group of young American aviators to be, and they all seem to like the campus. They will be issued their books this week and will enter into the whole program. This is a fine opportunity for us young fellows what with a free education, lodging, meals, and a swell payday every month. Where else but in a free country, could you expect to find such an opportunity.

Several of flight one's members moved up to the flying class last week. These were the men who were moved: Masters Nolan, McBride, Hucker, Durbin, and Strauch. Others had the opportunity but they decided the additional school work would aid them no end when the classification tests come around and during their various training periods as aviation students.

A-S Lincoln W. (Noc) Noe challenges any member of the 350th Training Detachment to equal or surpass his one-arm push up record of thirty-five, after he did 30 two-arm push ups, and 114 set ups. Not bad for a Wilder, Idaho boy. Did someone say "Eager Beaver"? Noc claims that he misses that canal water, but we don't believe him.

After the students saw some of the bad boys, who had to walk the drill field Saturday, they immediately got busy on the Blitz cloths and shoe brushes. What the boys want to know, though, is where were the other boys? They thought there should be some from the other groups. The boys are all singing a new song this week. It's "gig, gig, gig, it's not right."

A-S Gersky was disappointing to the class in English the other day by not talking about the intricate details of aviation navigation. However, A-S Erick added a bit of stimulation by his timely talk on life.

What girl from Cousins Hall calls a certain aircrew student almost every evening? The student hails from Kansas, the Sunflower state, and continually denies the girl means anything to him, but he always rushes to get to the phone.

Doctor Kemp, our Physics instructor, told us during class the other day that necessity is the mother of invention. Will you please set this writer straight on the following, Doctor? A loaf of bread is a necessity and an amphibious tank is an invention, so a loaf of bread must be the mother of an amphibious tank. What about it, Doctor?

This is all for now, but we'll be back next week.

The Road to Victory is Paved With War Bonds.

Aircrew Student Is In Line For Medals

M. J. Olson, who is an Aircrew Student at West Texas State, is awaiting presentation of two medals which he earned while flying in Alaska. Since he left his squadron to return to the States for cadet training, he does not know when the medals will reach him.

The first of the awards is the Soldiers Air Medal, which S-Sgt. Olson earned for his flights over enemy territory. This medal is given for a certain number of flights, and was awarded to eight members of Sgt. Olson's squadron.

The second medal is the Purple Heart, which is given to men wounded in battle. While on a bombing mission over Jap territory, Sgt. Olson, who operated a turret gun on a B-17, was wounded in the arm. Although their plane was badly shot up, and one crew member killed, the remaining men brought it back safely. After they landed, they counted over 100 holes in the ship.

Sgt. Olson was sent to Alaska in January, 1941, and while there took part in all the raids on Jap naval vessels in Alaskan waters. He has also been on many bombing missions over Attu and Kiska. In addition to this, his squadron was one of the group which sent out the remnants of the Jap Midway fleet.

Sgt. Olson returned to the United States in the spring of this year for training as an Aviation Cadet.

A-S Thompson To Be Married

Friday night at 7 p. m. A-S William Thompson of Magnolia, Arkansas, and Miss Eva Wood, of El Dorado, Arkansas, will be married in the First Baptist Church in Canyon. The couple will be at home at 2007 Fifth Avenue, Canyon.

The bride and groom will be hosts at a reception at their new home from two to five on Saturday afternoon. A small reception is planned, as time does not permit a honeymoon.

The groom has been in the Army for three years, and has seen service in Alaska. He came to W. T. S. about three weeks ago, and is in training to be an Aviation Cadet.

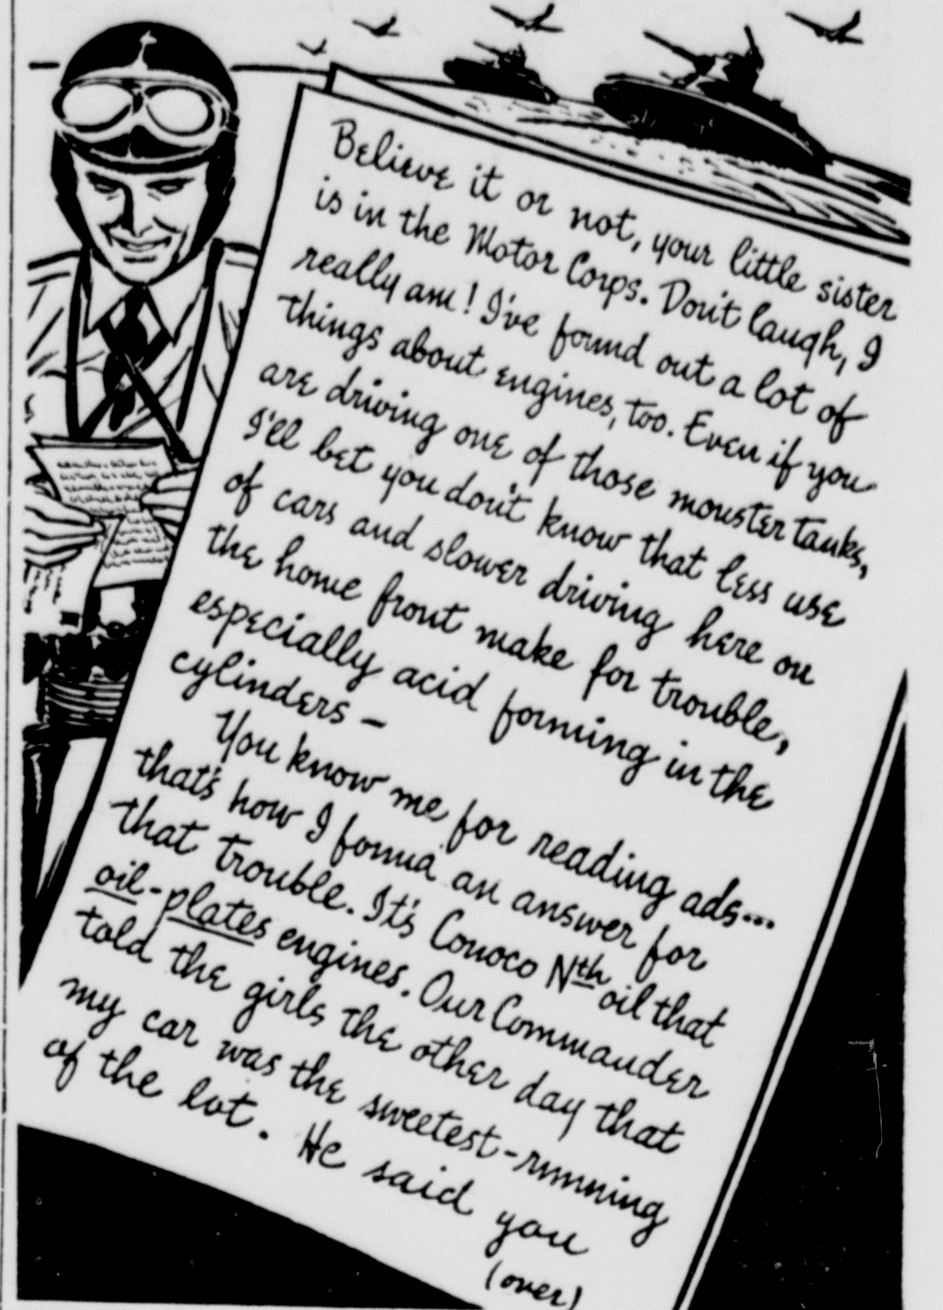

Although all the details have not been arranged, it is known that C. E. Fisher will be best man.

Group Leaves For Santa Ana

Saturday another group of Aviation Students left for Santa Ana, California. An air of tension prevailed as the men prepared to start for their new base. To most of them, it was their first trip to Santa Ana, but a few of them had been there before, and these were busy telling the remainder of their life there. After their arrival at

A working girl said: "When I buy a War Bond instead of something to wear, I know I'll have something that will be in style for 10 years."

It's a Royal Flush at poker, a Natural at dice, 13 of a suit at bridge, and it's War Bonds for tops in investment.

MARVIN JONES' CROP REPORT

War Food Administrator Marvin Jones said recently that, on the average, farmers are meeting this year's production goals for field crops. Earlier reports indicated that livestock and livestock products also will reach production goals. Mr. Jones said: "We will have enough food in this country—given at least average weather for the rest of the year—to give civilians adequate and healthful diets, in addition to meeting military and other essential wartime requirements. This does not mean, of course, that there is any better chance than appeared earlier for having all the food that civilians would like to buy, or that civilian supplies for some individual items will not be far below the demand."

SOLDIERS' LIFE INSURANCE

Soldiers—at home or abroad—are reminded that less than three weeks remain in which they can get National Service Life Insurance without a physical examination. Until August 10, 1943, every application will be accepted regardless of the individual's medical condition. After August 10 a rigid physical examination will be required.

PROGRAM TO AVOID CLOTHES RATION

A program to make clothes rationing unnecessary, recently announced by Donald M. Nelson, chairman of WPB, contains these six points: (1) increased production, (2) orderly and adequate distribution, (3) more "volume" merchandise, (4) allocation of materials of essential needs, (5) increased imports of burlap, and (6) proper care of clothing by consumers. There is an adequate supply of textiles to meet civilian needs, the WPB has determined.

FARMERS WILL GET GASOLINE

"Farmers are entitled to first call in receiving motor fuel when they present valid 'E', 'R' or bulk coupons or ration checks which are issued pursuant to Ration Order 5-C of the Office of Price Administration. Dealers (whether retail or wholesale) must accord them this privilege. This means, that if necessary, the dealer shall not deliver any motor fuel for any non-agricultural or non-military use until these preferred demands have been 'satisfied.'" . . . statement by Acting Petroleum Administrator for War Ralph K. Davies.

DAIRY PRODUCTS SUPPLIES

Civilians will get 8 of every 10 pounds of butter produced in the year which began July 1, the War Food Administration has announced. The Armed forces will get 1½ pounds, and the Russian Army will get ½ pound. Civilians will get 5½ of every 10 pounds of cheese, and 4 1-3 cases of evaporated milk out of every 10.

DRY BEANS FOR CIVILIANS

Civilians will get more dry beans and peas this year than they consumed in 1942, said the WFA in announcing allocations of these foods. More than half of the 22,200,000 hundred pound bags of beans will go to civilians, who will also get 1,624,000 bags of dry peas—more than were eaten in 1942, and 76,000 bags more than the 1935-39 average civilian consumption.

CANNED VEGETABLES AND FRUITS

Nearly 70 per cent of the canned vegetables, and 53 per cent of the canned fruits and juices available in the next 12 months will go to feed civilians. These quantities, allocated by the WFA for the 12 months beginning July 1, constitute about 4 per cent more canned vegetables but about 40 per cent less canned fruit than were consumed on the average during the 1935-39 period.

EGG SUPPLIES HOLD EVEN

About the same quantity of eggs will be available to civilians in the 12 months beginning July 1, as in the same period last year, the WFA has indicated. Of a total of 5 billion dozen eggs, civilians will get about 3½ billion dozen.

SOLDIERS SEND MONEY BY RADIO

American soldiers overseas except those in Alaska, Hawaii, Panama Canal Zone, and Puerto Rico may now send money home by radio. In a recent week more than 9,000 soldiers sent nearly $1,000,000, in amount of $10 or more, with no maximum limit. Money may be transmitted to an individual payee, or to a bank. The process is speedy and sure. If a soldier desires to do so, he may also purchase war bonds by this method.

FROZEN FOOD LOCKER PRICES

New operators of frozen food lockers must charge prices in line with those charged by firms in business in March 1942, the OPA has ruled. Prices charged by new frozen food locker plants will be investigated and adjusted by the OPA according to prevailing prices for similar services in the same locality in March, 1942.

NO CORN FOR LIQUOR

Corn cannot be used for manufacture of distilled spirits and high wines, a recent directive of the War Production Board says. The action was taken to conserve stocks of corn for essential purposes, although the amount of corn saved is likely to be small because distillers already had shifted largely to the use of wheat.

NO COTTON QUOTAS FOR 1943

The War Food Administration, on recommendation of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency, has announced that there will be no marketing quotas for the 1943 cotton crop and that no quotas will be in effect for the 1944 crop. On July 1, farmers were cultivating about 3 million acres less cotton than the acreage permitted in 1943, and about a million and a half fewer acres than they were cultivating on July 1, 1942.

FARM LAND VALUES

Farm land values on March 1, 1942 were higher than they were in 1943, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics said, in explaining that the index of average per acre values had risen to 99. (1912 to 1914 equals 100). The index of average per acre values in March, 1942, was 91. A low point of 33 was reached in 1933 in the aftermath of inflation started during the last war. One anti-inflationary force at the present time is the fact that many farmers have been using a considerable part of their cash income to pay off mortgage debts.

8 MILLION POUNDS OF WASTE FATS

American housewives salvaged almost 8 million pounds of waste kitchen fats in May—highest total since the fats and grease salvage program was started. This result surprised government officials who said that a drop might have been expected because meats and fats have been rationed since March. Nevertheless, the 8 million pounds is only about 50 per cent of the needed quota of 16,667,000 pounds per month.

ROLL BACK OF VEGETABLE PRICES

Effective July 20, a rollback of about 25 per cent in the price of lettuce and 50 per cent in the price of cabbage was ordered by the OPA.

'Typical WAC'

Swinging the bat is Alice Behenna, 23, chosen "typical WAC" of Camp Grant, Ill. Specifications: five-one, soft brown hair, ready smile. She's a camp clerk, short-center on softball team, camp musical show chorine.

This was the first step in a program to cut back the excessive prices of fresh fruits and vegetables to keep the cost of living down.

MORE COMMUNITY-WIDE PRICES

OPA will continue to establish community-wide prices on foods sold at retail, even though it has recently issued over-all fixed mark-up regulations. The housewife cannot easily tell whether a storekeeper has made his prices by the mark-up method, and that is the reason OPA will proceed with community-wide maximums.

BUY BOOKS

Investigation shows that books will become more and more scarce as the war continues. This means that those who buy books should contemplate their needs and place orders early.

Children Books

We have the largest stock of children's books that we have ever shown. There is no stock in the Southwest as complete as this department. But these books will not last long.

We advise that you buy your winter books soon, especially books for Christmas gifts.

WARWICK'S

We invite you to see our large stock of appropriate gifts of all kinds.

FARMERS!

Let us handle your BARLEY, OATS, WHEAT and RYE. Top prices at all times. We are assured ample Government Storage this year, but railroad cars may not always be available to ship the grain.

BONDED FOR YOUR PROTECTION

We are open the year around for your convenience and are ready to serve you at all times.

We do not permit the rush of harvest to interfere with our regular lines of DAIRY AND POULTRY FEEDS. Let us serve you at all times.
